

stocked. In fact, I do not think we have more than 50,000 barrels on hand. This is not even up to the average. Of course, the demand is not any too great at this time of the year. It never is.

Shortly before the election we had a stock of 200,000 barrels. Immediately after election orders began to pour in from merchants and the demand for the supply. The result was we had to keep the mills going day and night to supply the demand. That, however, is no criticism. We might be crowded out of the market if we did not keep the mills going day and night to supply the demand. It is a fact that the mills are now running at a loss, not only because of the low price of the product, but also because of the high cost of the fuel.

A COLONY SCANDAL.

American in Paris "Turn Up" by the Ballantine Differences.

An Embassy Secretary Said to Have Blackmailed Clubs.

(Copyright, 1914, by the Press Publishing Company. (Special Cable Dispatch to the World.)

PARIS, Nov. 28.—The American colony here is greatly agitated over the threatened Ballantine divorce suit. The co-respondent is the Secretary of one of the clubs. It is stated that Mrs. Ballantine will file a counter-petition. A very queer state of domestic affairs, it is expected, will be revealed if the case comes to trial.

The theatrical world has been startled by the report of the Hatling, who, sending no chance of playing a part this winter at the Comedie Francaise, plucked went over to the Vaudeville. This surprising independence of spirit is attributed largely to the influence of Sardou, who is anxious to have another strike to his bow. He has been writing a play specially for Hatling. He denies this, though cautiously saying he may write one for her, but it will not be ready this winter.

Since her visit to America Hatling says she takes a deep interest in the work of the French press. She is now the French press has not recovered from the fright caused by the revelations of blackmail.

Some of the leading journals, it appears, have been in the habit for years of blackmailing people whose characters had an unpleasant stain. It has now been discovered that several editors bribed Police Headquarters systematically and searched the records of all the prominent people with the object of blackmailing them.

Some of these newspapers made a specialty of clubs, which in Paris are mostly gambling saloons. It is believed that the editor of the Dictionnaire des Clubs, has suddenly gone to Brussels. One of these clubs is said to have been the scene of a scandalous affair. The general feeling among journalists here is that he will return soon, and that the case will be hushed up, because if this sort of exposure once fairly begins there is no knowing where it will end.

It is confidently asserted that many Deputies are in the pay of the press, and it is believed that full revelations of the underhanded transactions of the Paris press would prove disastrous to more reputations than the Panama scandal.

But what is engaging public attention most is the Toulouse election trial, which indicates that for twenty years the Toulouse elections have been fraudulent. If this is the case, Toulouse people say, other places may be in the same condition.

THE CZAR'S ADVISERS.

Nicholas II. to Retain His Father's Friends and Ambassadors.

(Copyright, 1914, by the Press Publishing Company. (Special Cable Dispatch to the World.)

PARIS, Nov. 28.—The rumors of changes among Government officials of Russia prove to be false. The Emperor evidently intends to retain in his service all the advisers of his father and the Ambassadors as well.

Prince Lobanoff Rostoffski will remain for the present at Vienna, but Count Shouvaloff will leave Berlin to take a responsible post in Russia. He has been anxious to leave the German court, which the Countess dislikes. He wishes to bring out his daughter at St. Petersburg. He is known to be friendly towards the English, and the Countess hates the German court society.

Nikita leaves Paris to-morrow for Berlin. Hence he goes to Russia. He is an elderly man, who has arrived here from Japan and Eastern Siberia, goes to London to-morrow. He intends to visit America next year to make a lecturing tour, describe the Russian position and refute some of Kennan's statements.

Funeral Services of the Princess Bismarck at Varenz To-Day.

VARENZ, Nov. 28.—The funeral ceremonies over the remains of Princess Bismarck were conducted at noon to-day by the local pastor. The body was removed from the chateau and was temporarily deposited in the pavilion in the park where a specially arranged service was held.

The ceremonies were strictly private, only the members of the family being present. The body was removed to the train at Varenz.

The Reel of Portugal Closes the Congressional Session.

LISBON, Nov. 28.—In consequence of continued trouble in the Cortes, the King has closed the session. The Cortes will be summoned when the King deems it opportune.

HEDGES FOR CHIEF CLERK.

Mayer-Elect Strong Names Willis Molly's Successor.

Will Larocque Be the Next Corporation Counsel.

The designation of Job E. Hedges to be the secretary and chief clerk of Mayor Strong, will bring some satisfaction to stalwart Republican partisans, but it will not fill them with unalloyed happiness. Mr. Hedges is a regular Republican, and an active worker in the machine, but he has at times exhibited considerable independence and he has shown conclusively that he has a mind of his own and that he intends to use it.

OWEN McDermott Cut Down by the Man He Treated.

He Identifies His Assailant, Who Sincerely Confesses.

Owen McDermott is lying at Gouverneur Hospital to-day as a result of a stab wound inflicted in his abdomen by Richard Burns, an ex-convict, in the saloon of Richard Fitzpatrick, 3 Bowery, early this morning.

Burns and his brother James were held without bail at Essex Market Police Court to-day to await the result of McDermott's injuries.

McDermott is a molder, and lives at 88 Bowery. He staggered into the saloon about 3 o'clock this morning and began to buy drinks for the dozen frequenters of the place. He had his week's wages with him, and exposed a roll of bills when he paid for the liquor.

The cupping brothers were aroused. Finally James Burns challenged McDermott to a fight, and accepted the challenge and knocked James down. In the scuffle that followed Richard Burns, who was armed with a knife, stabbed McDermott in the abdomen.

The officer picked him up and discovered a pool of blood flowing from a wound on the right side of his abdomen.

They done it in there: two of 'em," gasped McDermott.

Under the assistance and arrested the Burns brothers and bartender Higgins. McDermott identified Richard Burns as his assailant, and he sneeringly admitted that he cut him.

At Gouverneur Hospital McDermott's life is despaired of.

LOOSE PARK METHODS IN SPENDING THE MILLION-DOLLAR FUND.

An Easy Thing to Add a Few Names to the Pay-Rolls.

Promotions Settled Almost Entirely on a Money Basis.

In the columns of figures showing expenditure of the million-dollar appropriation there have appeared many significant items. The names of certain firms and supply companies have been repeated so often as to make them familiar to readers. To those who are not thoroughly conversant with the details of the Comptroller's office and the Department of Finance it might be well to state that J. H. Timmerman is the City Paymaster. He has nothing to do with auditing bills or vouchers, but pays the checks and reports upon their accuracy. The time of the laborer is taken by the foreman, who keeps it not only in books but on time sheets. These are turned in daily to the Inspector, Clarence Levey, whose assistant inspectors are supposed to verify the returns as far as possible and report upon their accuracy.

Mr. Levey is responsible for the statement that it would be absolutely impossible for any foreman to send into his office a bill for $250.00 a day. He has no money to pay for the work of the men in the park. The men are paid by the day, and the pay roll is turned in daily to the City Paymaster.
